

About the Author

Geoffrey Macnab is a film journalist and critic for The Independent, Financial Times and Screen International. He has written several books on film, including Stairways to Heaven: Rebuilding the British Film Industry, Ingmar Bergman: The Life and Films of the Last Great European Director, Delivering Dreams: A Century of British Film Distribution, Searching for Stars: Stardom and Screen Epiphanies.

The Film Distributors' Association (FDA) represents the interests of film distributors in the UK and Ireland. Its membership ranges from Hollywood studios to independent operators and is responsible for 99% of all films released in the territory. The British Film Industry in 25 Careers is the third collaboration between Geoffrey Macnab and the FDA, and this latest read neatly aligns with one of the FDA's core workstreams to help develop both new and existing industry talent, with the ongoing aim of increasing diversity and improving inclusivity in the film industry.
